MAKE YOUR MEAL ENJOYABLE BY FOLLOWING THESE TIPS

1. Use metal tongs provided to move raw meat on the grill. Use your chopsticks to remove cooked meat from the grill.
2. Do not load the grill up with too many meats at the same time. This increases the risk of fire.
3. Meats that are higher in fat content (especially Toro Beef and Pork) should be cooked around the edges of the grill.
4. Table sauces go in your sauce tray and not on the grill. While meat is cooking on the grill, do not add any table sauces on it. For best flavor, add the sauces when your meats are cooked and on your plate!
5. Questions about how to best grill your meat or what to order? Please ask your server!

GRILL WITH CAUTION

Please cook one by one, carefully, and enjoy it to its fullest potential!

When placing too much on the grill at once, Wagyu fat and other high fat items can cause increased risk of fire hazard. Please grill with caution with items such as A5 Wagyu, Toro Beef, Pork Belly, Shrimp & Mushroom Ahijo, etc.
